About Bradley Callow & Gordie Bufton

Bradley Callow and Gordie Bufton developed a platform that serves as a catalyst for transformation of high-performing parents and their children. They deliver tangible solutions through enhanced self-awareness to help busy parents address the evolving challenges of the digital age. How would an improved relationship with your children affect their development and future?

Using their platform, "Rich Legacy" Bradley and Gordie discuss the challenges of growing up under the guidance of high-performing parents. The stakes are monumental. Having both barely escaped prison and death, they now provide eye-opening insights from the perspective of the child. This approach inspires parents to engage with their children in a way they never dreamed possible.

Bradley Callow is an international speaker, conscious entrepreneur and treatment specialist. Consulting with businesses on advertising, marketing, and public relations strategies before the age of 20, Callow is no stranger to blazing his own path. Bradley is committed to challenging the status quo and has a passion for helping others to succeed. He has created a life dedicated to entrepreneurship, consulting, and most recently behavioral health innovation. His enthusiasm, creativity, and focus on what could be, rather than what is affords him the type of mind which overcomes challenges, creates change, and helps save lives. Whether working with families, individuals, or in the behavioral health field as a whole, Bradley works to help open people's minds to possibilities they may never knew existed. He then provides the resources and confidence to explore them.

Gordie Bufton is an international speaker, family coach and best-selling author. His book, "Eluding Reality: A Memoir about Drugs, Psych Wards, and Recovery" captures the gritty realities of drug abuse. Gordie's story simultaneously portrays the strength that we can all draw upon to overcome the harshest of circumstances. Inspired by the heart-felt feedback to his book, he took to the road to share his experience, strength, and hope. He has stimulated a profound response from audiences at over 100 events with tens of thousands of attendees. His passionate and systematic commitment to helping prevent others from experiencing the hardships he faced is palpable. He is an avid meditator and Ironman.

Select Keynotes

- Eluding Reality

A candid memoir about Gordie Bufton's rebellious and selfish descent into the underbelly of society. This audacious journey travels through addictions to ecstasy and marijuana, jail, narrowly escaping death, numerous psych ward stays, and an escape from a high security ward. The doctors labeled and diagnosed Gordie as bipolar, schizophrenic, manic, and depressed. They said he would never be able to live a "normal" life without taking prescription antipsychotics. Will he be able to prove the doctors' wrong? Accompany the author on the path to finding himself and living in reality.
