About Clint Pulver

Clint Pulver is an Emmy Award winner, Hall of Fame Speaker, Pro Drummer and one of the world's leading voices on employee retention and organizational culture. He's the bestselling author of the book titled I Love It Here: How Great Leaders Create Organizations Their People Never Want to Leave and was named one of Business Q Magazine's Top 40 Under 40 for his groundbreaking research as the Undercover Millennial.

As founder and president of The Center for Employee Retention, he has helped organizations like the NBA, Microsoft, Red Bull, and NASA create engaged, loyal, and thriving workplaces. He's also appeared on America's Got Talent, acted in feature films alongside stars like Jack Black and Jon Heder, is an avid helicopter pilot, and—fun fact—is a proud member of the R2D2 Builders Club. He is also the president and founder of Dream Machines, a foundation that gives children with disabilities the gift and magic of flight.

Clint strongly believes that a single moment in time can change a person's life. He has traveled the world speaking to a wide spectrum of diverse audiences, challenging them to dream, excel, connect, and believe—both in themselves and in the power of others. His mantra? "It's not about being the best in the world...it's about being the best FOR the world."

"This was the best keynote we have had at our event in several years. Our audience appreciated the message and the energy of the drumming performance, but the content of Clint's remarks is what resonated the most with our event--the belief that one moment can change your life is something that we try to remind ourselves of when we plan this event annually."

– Austin Large, Texas FFA Convention

"Clint's keynote is still being talked about within our company. The engagement, humor, content, and movement he created for us at Hewlett Packard will not be forgotten. He is without a doubt one of the most effective speakers we've ever had."

– Bob Southworth, Hewlett Packard

"Clint's been to two of our retreats, and regardless of what generation you are from, Clint's message was relevant. Good tactics, good strategy, good message, and I'd highly recommend it to anybody out there who is trying to improve their millennials and workplace."
